Carl Schalk's vast experience as a teacher, author, musicologist, and composer makes him uniquely qualified to present this compact but insightful history of Christian hymnody in the Western Church. In it he guides the reader through the contributions, conflicts, and questions which arose through the successive periods in the development of Christian song from the Old Testament through the twentieth century.

Singing the Faith: A Short Introduction to Christian Hymnody

Rediscovering musical reverence in worship in the 21 st century may be the key to a doorway, through which an age of beauty and the Church's eucharistic life can again disciple new generations of Christians; to imagine the Kingdom of God, to become forged into a peculiar people—a new nation of true worshippers—who sound with their poetry that they are not of this world, and to learn with one voice to sing in the

The twentieth century has produced an impressive literature centered about the mystery religions and the problem of their influence upon Christianity; but in the field of hymnology there have been discovered only the faintest of traces. These are wholly stylistic.

Christian Hymns of the First Three Centuries, by Ruth ...

Hymnody in continental Europe developed from early liturgical music, especially Gregorian chant. Music became more complicated as embellishments and variations were added, along with influences from secular music. Although vernacular leisen and vernacular or mixed-language Carol were sung in the Middle Ages, more vernacular hymnody emerged during the Protestant Reformation, although ecclesiastical Latin continued to be used after the Reformation. Since then, developments have shifted between iso

History Early Christian music.

Christianity began as a small, persecuted Jewish sect. At first there was no break with the Jewish faith; Christians still attended synagogues and the Second Temple in Jerusalem just as Jesus Christ had done, and presumably still carried on the same musical traditions in their separate Christian meetings. The only record of communal song in the Gospels is the ...
